Voters Will Make Choice in Tuesday Primary;
Republicans Still Busy

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—Two leading pemocratic candidates, United States Seastor James A. Reed and Breckendige Long, Third Assistant Secretary of State during the Wilson Administration, brought to a close to-night what is considered by politicians to be the interest campaign for the Senatorial pomination waged in Missouri in many iterates. Senator Reed made his close their campaign to be the favorites in this race.

Both Express Confidence

In referring to his stand on the materh ity bill during its discussin in Cngress. Stressing his lyalty to the Democratic Cause, Mr. eed again laid emphasis on the charge of "bolting" which had been brought against the Long forces because of a recent threat made by one of the Long followers.

The League of Nations, the the food administration of Herbert Hoover and all the pet issues advanced by both candidates furnished Senator Reed aubjects that have been echoed in all sections of the state during the campaign.

Mr. Long reiterated his previous cassailed for failure to protect the party in 1920 and for making speeches for a Republican candidate in Wisconsin. He again charged that many Republicans would vote for his opponent next Tuesday.

The ousting of Mr. Colgan came with as much surprise to his friends as did his appointment to the place, for he is a man of considerable means, and far removed from the professional office-holding class. He is one of the largest dealers in sand gravel in this part

Cards Boom Hylan In Dutchess County

Up in Dutchess County, the ome of William Church Osborn, former Democratic state chairman, and author of the resolution adopted by the up-state Democratic leaders condemning William Randolph Hearst, cards are being circulated, reading:

"Pine Plains, Dutchess County, New York. For Governor, Hon. John F. Hylan. Man of the people. Enemy of Corporation Tricksters. Best Mayor New York City ever had. Elect a Governor without shackles. Urge nomination of Honest John Hylan. Bust the system of ouija board politicians."

The cards are being circulated anonymously.

holding class. He is one of the largest dealers in sand gravel in this part of the state, having large yards in the Erie Basin district of Brooklyn, employing many men on trucks and on scows. In addition he is in the insurance business with his son, George A. Colgan ir., with offices in Manhattan.

Mr. Murphy, according to his intimates, will not surrender to Mr. Hearst, and if he persists in this course, and the editor-politician insists that Mr. Murphy give him the nomination, there will be a complete break between the City Hall and Fourteenth Street, as happened during the

Smith for Senator Possible

The Tammany leaders are opposed to Mr. Hearst because of his irregularity and his vicious attacks on most of them, from Mr. Murphy and Smith down, and they are also determined that Smith shall be renominated, despite the avowed intention of Mr. Hearst to destroy him.

Hearst to destroy him.

The Tammany men, looking back on the row between Mr. Murphy and the City Hall when Mr. McClelian was Mayor, have unmistakable proof before them that it paid to stand by Tammany, which, in their opinion, like the brook, goes on forever, while the Mayors come and go.

These Tammany leaders are hoping that the situation will iron itself out so that Mayor Hylan or some one else satisfactory to Mr. Hearst may be accepted as a compromise candidate for Governor and that Al Smith will be nominated for United States Senator—the job he really wants, despite all the clamoring of his friends that he run again for Governor.
